

The Pauline and Gordon Hinch Memorial Award for Staff Development at the Toronto Public Library Foundation

Named in memory of Pauline and Gordon Hinch, this award recognizes Pauline's contribution to the Library, through her outstanding career as well as her contribution to the profession of librarianship. The Award supports Toronto Public Library staff who are pursuing a career in public librarianship.

Pauline Hinch was born in Thunder Bay Ontario. Following high school graduation, she had an early career in radio. In mid-life, Pauline went back to school, obtaining her Masters in Library Science in 1975. She joined the North York Public Library, Collection Development Department soon after graduating. With the opening of the new central library in 1987, she was appointed Manager of Language, Literature and Fine Arts. By her retirement in 1990, she was in charge of the Canadiana and Society and Recreation departments. Her passion for public librarianship and the high standards to which she adhered earned her the respect and admiration of all her colleagues. Working in a world she loved, Pauline sought to nurture this same affection of libraries and its users among everyone with whom she worked.

This award also recognizes Pauline's husband, Gordon, and his unwavering dedication to Staff Development at the Library and to the growth and longevity of this invaluable award.

The Award

- Provides partial or full funding (as resources permit) for a one-year tuition scholarship to Library staff members pursuing a career as a librarian and completing their Masters of Library/Information Science degree in an accredited library science program.
- Is administered and its recipients chosen through the Foundation by The Pauline and Gordon Hinch Memorial Award Committee, set up for the sole purpose of administering the award.

There will be up to two awards distributed in 2024. One award with a value of $5,000 and one award with a value of $2,500. A completed application will be considered for both awards. (Please note, a single applicant cannot be the recipient of both awards).

Depending on the funds available for disbursement from the Pauline and Gordon Hinch Endowment Fund and any additional funding available, one or more awards will be distributed annually.
